Title: Bobby Tooktoo is the new Director of Parc national Tursujuq

Nunavik Parks is very proud to announce the nomination of Mr. Bobby Tooktoo to the position of Director of Parc national Tursujuq. Nunavik Parks selected Mr. Tooktoo for his strong sense of organisation and positive leadership. He has a collaborative vision, which will contribute in strengthening the relation between the communities and the park.

Mr. Tooktoo has distinguished himself for his achievements with Nunavik Parks. He began working as a Park Warden for 6 years and afterward he became an Operations Coordinator for the last 2 years. This experience has allowed him to acquire a wide-ranging body of knowledge and skills necessary to fulfill a leadership position in Nunavik Parks.

Parc national Tursujuq was created in 2013 and is the largest national park in Quebec. Since its creation, Nunavik Parks has had a strong positive impact and has contributed in protecting the land. It now employs over 30 full-time employees and through operation expenses, injects close to $5M annually in Nunavik's economy. Nunavik Parks also promotes the Inuit Way of Life, the connection between youth and elders, and the preservation and sharing of traditional skills and knowledge.
